

Table 6. Carvedilol

- | |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| <ul style="list-style-type: none">• EPO secreting cells receive extensive sympathetic stimulation• Erythroid progenitor cells (EPC) display β_1 and α-adrenergic receptors• Blockade of β_2 receptors Suppression<ul style="list-style-type: none">- EPO production- EPS proliferation |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|